Chartered Financial Analyst® (CFA®)

The Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA®) charter is a globally respected, graduate-level investment credential established in 1962 and awarded by CFA Institute — the largest global association of investment professionals. There are currently more than 138,000 CFA® charterholders working in 134 countries. To earn the CFA® charter, candidates must: 1) pass three sequential, six-hour examinations; 2) have at least four years of qualified professional investment experience; 3) join CFA Institute as members; and 4) commit to abide by, and annually reaffirm, their adherence to the CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct.

High Ethical Standards

The CFA Institute Code of Ethics and Standards of Professional Conduct, enforced through an active professional conduct program, require CFA® charterholders to:

- Place their clients' interests ahead of their own
- Maintain independence and objectivity
- Act with integrity
- Maintain and improve their professional competence
- Disclose conflicts of interest and legal matters

Global Recognition

Passing the three CFA exams is a difficult feat that requires extensive study (successful candidates report spending an average of 300 hours of study per level). Earning the CFA® charter demonstrates mastery of many of the advanced skills needed for investment analysis and decision making in today's quickly evolving global financial industry. As a result, employers and clients are increasingly seeking CFA® charterholders – often making the charter a prerequisite for employment. Additionally, regulatory bodies in over 30 countries and territories recognize the CFA® charter as a proxy for meeting certain licensing requirements, and more than 125 colleges and universities around the world have incorporated a majority of the CFA Program curriculum into their own finance courses.

Comprehensive and Current Knowledge
The CFA Program curriculum provides a comprehensive framework of knowledge for investment decision making and is firmly grounded in the knowledge and skills used every day in the investment profession. The three levels of the CFA Program test a proficiency with a wide range of fundamental and advanced investment topics, including ethical and professional standards, fixed-income and equity analysis, alternative and derivative investments, economics, financial reporting standards, portfolio management, and wealth planning.

The CFA Program curriculum is updated every year by experts from around the world to ensure that candidates learn the most relevant and practical new tools, ideas, and investment and wealth management skills to reflect the dynamic and complex nature of the profession. Disciplinary Information - Item 3

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Mr. Stats and Brighton Wealth. Mr. Stats has no history of reportable legal or disciplinary events.

Other Business Activities - Item 4

Mr. Stats is a licensed insurance agent. As such, he can effect transactions in insurance products and earn commission-based compensation for these activities. Clients are instructed that the fees paid to Brighton Wealth for advisory services are separate and distinct from the commissions earned by Mr. Stats for placing the client in insurance products. The receipt of dual forms of compensation is a conflict of interest because it incentivizes Mr. Stats to recommend insurance products based on the compensation received, rather than on the client's needs. Mr. Stats strives to put the client's interests first, and clients to whom the firm offers advisory services are informed that they are under no obligation to purchase insurance products or services. Clients who do choose to purchase insurance services are under no obligation to purchase them from Mr. Stats and may use any insurance firm and/or agent they choose. Mr. Stats spends less than 5% of his professional time on insurance-related activities.
